The American Cancer Society gratefully acknowledges your contribution. This statement serves as a formal acknowledgement for federal tax purposes of your contribution of the items described below. You received no goods or services in exchange for this contribution. Please retain this acknowledgment as evidence of your contribution.

Items donated and description:

To claim a tax deduction for a non-cash contribution to a charity, a donor must keep a record of the fair market value of the contributed property. Federal tax law does not permit the American Cancer Society to determine the value of your contribution. To assist in your record-keeping, you may choose to document below the estimated fair market value of your contribution. For more information about the contribution of property, including possible appraisal requirements, please see IRS Publication 26, "Charitable Contributions" and consult your tax advisor.
